State Items Briefly Told

Luray.—The Luray-Washington bus line, which began operation Tuesday, will revolutionize travel between Luray and the national capital.

South Boston.—The Town Council at an adjourned meeting adopted a budget covering the operation of all departments of the city, amounting to $130,033.50.

Fredericksburg.—Playground equipment costing $2,000 was formally presented to the school children of the city Tuesday by the local Kiwanis Club.

Richmond.—Enrollment of World War veterans is being undertaken by the American Legion as a means of gaining contact with thousands of men for whom the organization may render service.

Winchester.—Harry Crabill, middle-aged farmer of Tomsbrook, is in a precarious condition in a hospital here from injuries sustained when attacked and gored by a ferocious bull on his farm.

Harrisonburg.—Launching his campaign for the governorship here Senator Harry Flood Byrd planted himself firmly on the constructive platform on which he had won the Democratic nomination.

Harrisonburg.—While the number of cases climbed to thirty, the typhoid fever epidemic in the village of Timberville, ten miles north of here, is believed by county health officers to be under control.

Richmond.—Industrial Richmond is tremendously interested in the coke oven project, and is "pulling," ever so silently, for Council to accept the proposal of Frederick E. Nolting and associates to establish a plant here.

Luray.—The dozen or more tomato canneries of this county have had a prosperous season, considering the severity of the drought in the middle of the summer and the early date at which a killing frost put an end to the business.

Governor Trinkle joined with President Coolidge, the United States Bureau of Education and other organizations in advocating, in an official proclamation, observation of American Education Week, November 16-22 inclusive.

Suffolk.—Carr Stephens, manager of the Myrtle Supply Corporation Grist Mill, at Myrtle, was caught in the shaft of the mill while adjusting a belt, and was killed. Mr. Stephens, who was 65 years old, had been in charge of the plant for about six months.

Danville.—Mrs. Sallie C. Booker, of Martinsville, whose election in November as Henry County's Representative in the House of Delegates, is assured will make her debut in the General Assembly with her mind made up on several pending questions.

Lynchburg.—Corbin Glass, charged with second violation of the city prohibition ordinance, was convicted in the Municipal Court and was given six months on the State roads and fined $272. He appealed to the Corporation Court.

Richmond. — Discrepancies in accounts of county treasurers and clerks throughout Virginia have become very infrequent since inauguration of the custom of representatives of the State Accountant's office checking up periodically, in an effort to help the county officials make returns to the State in proper form.

Richmond.—From the ashes of the University of Richmond temporary science building, burned to the ground Tuesday night, will rise not only the permanent chemistry building for which plans have been made but also new biology and physics units, if the hopes of President F. W. Boatwright materialize.

South Boston.—A move to abolish the county health department was frustrated by the Halifax County Board of Supervisors, who voted to continue the department two years longer, from February 1, 1926, and make an appropriation of $7,500 per annum as the county's share for the maintenance of the department.

Salem.—Five girls of Catawba District in Roanoke county are members of a room improvement contest, which is being directed by the County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Mary Moorman. These girls have been busily engaged for some weeks in rearranging their bedrooms. They are doing everything from tinting the walls and making new draperies to making over old furniture and making domestic rugs.

Lexington.—A photographic copy of the only college degree George Washington ever received was added to the collection of relics of founders of Washington and Lee University here, Henry Louis Smith, president of the institution, said that so far as can be learned Washington's only degree was an L. L. B., conferred by Washington College, Maryland.

Richmond.—Blackstone Post, No. 69, was awarded the captured German gun in the membership contest staged by the Virginia Department of the American Legion last year

PAUL'S FAREWELL AT MILETUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 20:18-32.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive."—Acts 20:35.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul a Loving Friend.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's Farewell at Miletus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—An Example of Faithfulness.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Responsibilities of Church Members.

After the uproar at Ephesus, the Jews laid wait for Paul to destroy him. This plot obligated him to retrace his steps through Macedonia instead of taking a more rapid sea voyage. He tarried with the disciples at Troas, preaching till them around the table of the Lord, and speeding words of encouragement to them. In order to be at Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, he did not go to Ephesus, but sent for the elders of the church at Ephesus to meet him at Miletus. The picture of Paul's farewell to the Ephesian elders is a very touching one. His object in this address was to impress upon them their responsibilities. The analysis of his address has been so well made by Doctor Stifler that it is substantially reproduced here.

I. Paul Reviews His Three Years' Ministry at Ephesus (vv. 18-21).

1. The Spirit of His Ministry (v. 19).

(1) He was humble, "serving with all humility of mind."

(2) He was tender, working for them in tears.

(3) He was faithful in the face of trials which befell him because the Jews were lying in wait for him.

2. The Diligence of His Ministry (vv. 20-21).

(1) He made known everything which was of profit unto them. This every true minister or teacher will do.

(2) He taught both in public and in private. A minister's work is not done when his pulpit ministrations are over. The effectiveness of his public work is sometimes determined by his touch with the people in their homes.

(3) He neglected no class, whether Jews or Greeks. The Christian minister must be unprejudiced here.

3. The Theme of His Ministry (v. 21).

This was repentance and faith. Men and women need to repent of their sins and believe on the Lord Jesus Christ.

II. Paul Presents the Present State of Things (vv. 22-27).

1. His Immediate Purpose (v. 22). This was to go to Jerusalem. The constraint of the Spirit moved him to go forward though he did not know the things that should befall him there.

2. The Shadows Lying Across His Path (v. 23).

Though bonds and afflictions awaited him, he went forward to his work with undaunted courage.

3. His Fixed Purpose (v. 24).

This was to complete his ministry, which was to testify the gospel of the grace of God which he had received from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. A Sorrowful Prediction (v. 25).

Those among whom he had labored should see his face no more.

5. He Leaves No Debt of Obligation Behind (v. 26-27).

He was pure from the blood of all men.

III. Paul Sets Forth the Ephesian Elders' Responsibility (vv. 28-35).

1. Motives to Duty (v. 28).

(1) They received their call and commission directly from the Holy Spirit.

(2) The flock for which they must care was purchased with the precious blood of Christ.

2. Perils from the Devil (vv. 29-30).

(1) Grievous wolves would enter the flock and mercilessly devour them.

(2) False teachers would arise from among their number.

3. Incentives to Watch (v. 31).

Paul's own example. For three years he watched night and day with tears.

4. He Commends Them to God, and His Word (v. 32).

He knew that this Word was able to build them up.

5. He Was Unselfish in His Service (vv. 33-35).

(1) He did not covet any man's silver, gold or apparel.

(2) He labored with his own hands and prayed with them all.

IV. Paul's Prayer (vv. 36-38).

Having spoken these words he knelt and prayed with them all.

Patience

Patience is a beautiful trait, but it is not worn oftenest by those who walk on life's sunny side in silver slippers. It is the product of days of adversity. "The trial of your faith worketh patience."—Evangelical Messenger.

No Room for Hatred

With a constraining love for Christ there is no room left in the heart for the hatred of any person for whom Christ died.—Presbyterian of the South.

Keep 'Em Impoverished

Pardoning the head is inviting the foot.—Benjamin Franklin.

FOREST VIEW

The drought of the summer has passed and the long looked for rain is here. The farmers have been trying to sow their wheat, the rain caught much of the land prepared, some had sowed right much, and some had not sowed any.

One of the strangest as well as the prettiest sights was witnessed last Friday, when the snow fell all the afternoon as fast as it ever falls in January, and the leaves on the trees still clinging on. The snow lodging amongst all the colors in the foliage was a beautiful scenery to behold.

Our community has been saddened by the death of Mr. Henry Morris, on October 21st. He will be greatly missed for he always carried a cheerful and sunny disposition and was ready to cheer the down-hearted and sad. His last days were of much suffering, so the Lord saw best to take him. The family has the sympathy of a host of friends.

The Hallowe'en program at Petty's Fork on Local night was a success. Miss Mary Marshall and her helpers deserve much credit. The house was decorated beautiful, also the house was packed and all rendered their part well. There were several who signed the new contract.

We certainly thank our school trustees for their discussion on Oct. 23rd when they met at Petty's Folk school house to decide on the removal of this school, and the decision was to let it remain. We think the school is in the most appropiate place it could be put.

We extend to Dean Pugh and his bride all the best wishes for a long and happy life.

There is some attraction at Nuckols for one of our young gents in the community as he likes to travel that road very much.

WOODLAND

What a rare occurrence to see snow in October. The forest is beautiful in its leaves of different colors fringed with snow.

Mrs. E. J. Coleman, Mr. Alson Coleman and Mr. Charlie Belle, of Lynchburg, were the Thursday evening guest, of Mrs. W. L. Coleman.

Mr. J. Hermon Marshall who is at work in Lynchburg, was the week end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Marshall.

Miss Christene Agee was the week end guest of Mrs. Dorothy Woodson.

Miss Celene and Dorothy Woodson entertained a number of friends Saturday night at a Halloween party and everybody reported a good time.

Miss Louise Oaks spent Sunday at home near Pamplin.

STONEWALL

A snow storm reached this section Friday evening about two inches deep that struck. Quite a surprise to everybody. Delayed the farmers from getting ready for their corn shuckings, which are in progress now. Some have not finished sewing wheat.

Mrs. Clayton T. Drinkard and little son, Clayton, Jr., visited relatives in Lynchburg last week.

Judge Christian and Mrs Christian returned to Richmond last week to spend the winter. They summered with their daughter, Mrs. Parks Jennings and Mr. Jennings. We always regret their departure from our midst and delight in their arrival.

Among the ladies from Hebron church attending the W. M Association in Lynchburg last week included: Mrs. J. M. Street, Mrs. Parks Jennings, Mrs. C. E. Carson, Mrs. Rob. Thornhill, Mrs. Clayton T. Drinkard,—and Mrs. D. A. Christian, Sr.

Miss Verta Smith and Mr. Paul Drinkard, of Appomattox, visited in the home of W. H. Drinkard last Tuesday.

Mrs. Lavinia Isabell, of Washington, is spending sometime with J. A. Stratton and family.

VERA

The February weather we have been having the past few days has "put a crimp" in the harvesting and shucking of corn, it caught many of our farmers with their pulled off corn laying in the fields.

The unusual sight of trees in full leaf, covered with snow, was something very few, if any of us had ever seen before.

Buck Hollow School is closed on account of Scarlet Fever, consequently, Misses Evelyn and Isabelle O'Brien, teachers of this school are at home for the nonce.

We regret to record the illness of Miss "Juddie" Ferguson, daughter of Mr. Blanchard Ferguson. She will be taken to Catawba this week, for treatment. We hope the treatment will be beneficial to her and that she will soon return home cured

An attractive affair was the Hallowe'en party given by Misses Addie Childers and Belle Zeigler, Saturday night, at the home of Miss Childers. The young folks came masked and unmasked. Prize were given for the "tackiest" girl, also the "tackiest" boy present, the Grows must be "some artists" as Miss Florence received the prize in her class, and her brother, Julian Grow, received the boys prize.

"Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation; the Spirit is indeed willing, but the flesh is weak." Matt. 26-41. Some make the mistake of praying without watching; others make the mistake of watching without praying; but the only safe and proper method is that which our Lord directed to combine the two. We are to watch and be on our guard against the encoachments of the world, the flesh, and the devil. We are to watch for all the encouragements of the Lord's word, the evidence of their fulfilment, the signs that betoken his presence and the great changes of dispensation just at hand. We are to watch for everything that will strengthen us in strength, faith, hope and love and while we are watching we are to pray without ceasing. We are to pray together as the Lord's people; we are to pray in our homes as families; we are to pray in secret, in private."—"Manna."

Young Wife Afraid to Eat Anything

"I was afraid to eat because I always had stomach trouble afterwards. Since taking Adlerika I can eat and feel fine." (signed) Mrs. A. Howard, ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Removes old waste matter from intestines and makes you feel happy and hungry. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Chas. F. James, Druggist. 11-5

Men and Money Make this Bank Secure.

THERE are two ways of measuring the strength and standing of a bank. In the first place money resources—capital and surplus—give it financial strength.

In the second place—and perhaps even more important—are men, the officers and directors. They give the bank character, determine and execute its policies.

This is a strong bank, a helpful bank because it has ample resources, and a personnel of proven character and ability.
